Organisational notes

- Women who regularly attend the Qur'an circles receive a discounted rate for intensive courses in handicrafts and practical skills.
- Participants may attend the morning session, the evening session or both, according to their preferences and readiness.
- Sessions include congregational prayer at the association's premises. Session blocks are adjusted when prayer times change and during Ramadan.
- The circles continue during the five school breaks with special programmes, the details of which will be announced in due course.
